FEDERAL LIBRARY PROGRAM BEGINS

— A Progress Report —

by

Betty V. LeBus

Vice-President, I. L. A.

The Library Services Act, passed by the Congress in 1956 and extended through June 30, 1966, authorizes the spending of $7½ million annually for the further extension of public library service in rural areas. Rural areas are defined as areas from which have been excluded incorporated or unincorporated areas with a population over 10,000 according to the official Census, and all or part of minor civil divisions which are within urbanized areas and which have a population over 10,000. This does not prohibit the use of these funds by public libraries in nonrural areas for the extension of public library service to rural areas.

Matching Funds

The amount of funds a state may qualify for depends on the amount of state and local funds which may be designated as "matching funds." No change in the use planned for these state or local funds is involved. By showing that these "matching funds" are being spent for the further extension of service to rural areas Indiana gets "credit" for this amount in qualifying for funds under the Library Services Act.

On March, 1961, Indiana's plan for participation in this program was approved following a statement of his willingness to accept the funds by Governor Matthew E. Welsh and certification by the Attorney General. The Indiana Library and Historical Board was named the agency to receive and administer funds received under the plan. LSA funds must be spent in accordance with this plan, which may be amended freely, and in compliance with the laws of Indiana.

For the balance of the 1960-61 fiscal year it was possible to designate $61,094 as "matching funds" and Indiana has received $60,341 under the Library Services Act. Since the time was very short and these funds had to be encumbered before June 30, 1961, this money is being used to strengthen the collections of the State Library. This increases the number of books and materials available to libraries all over the state on loan. For 1961-62 Indiana could qualify for $193,574 carried over from the 1960-61 year plus the $211,978 allocation for 1961-62 or a total of $405,552 if $400,225 can be designated as "matching funds." It is estimated that 75% of the 1961-62 budget of the State Library can be so designated. To this sum can be added "credits" for funds in the budgets of local libraries participating in any Library Services Act program, but doing so does not automatically entitle the local library to a specific portion of the LSA funds.

Call for Advice

In planning for the future use of LSA funds the Indiana State Library has asked the help of the ILA-ILTA Public Library Development Committee. The Committee feels a real sense of obligation to answer this call for advice and an even greater obligation to the membership of the two associations to transmit their views to those charged with the administration of these funds. The Committee has decided it can work more effectively in small subcommittees, each concerned with some phase of this program. The following subcommittees of the Public Library Development Committee have been appointed to begin intensive work on the plans for 1961-62 and the following years:

1. Conference Subcommittee: Harold Sander, chairman, Indianapolis; Stillman K. Taylor, Terre Haute; Mrs. J. Crawford Polley, Crawfordsville, trustee; Cleo Rogers, Columbus; Mrs. Jessie Delano, Darlington. This committee will assist the State Library in development of plans for a Governor's Conference for librarians and trustees to be held in September, 1961. A program at the fall conference in October and regional meetings later in the year will also be planned.
2. Cooperative Enterprises Subcommittee: Mrs. Rolla Cooper, chairman, Auburn, trustee; Patrick Murray, Ft. Wayne; Ralph Van Handel, Gary. This group will work on the types of projects which might be submitted, how proposals should be submitted, and develop criteria for selecting projects from those submitted. This committee needs ideas and will be calling for help.
3. Education and Scholarship Subcommittee: Mrs. Jeanne Stuntz, chairman, Delphi, trustee; Mrs. Harry Appenzeller, Redkey, trustee; Margaret Sheviak, Indiana University; V. H. Hebbeler, Huntingburg, trustee; Mrs. Fred E. Shelton, Danville, trustee. These people will study the problems involved in offering instruction in library science throughout the state and determine what type of scholarship and loan program may be possible.
4. Projects Subcommittee: Leon Jones, chairman, Muncie; William Shore, Lake County Library; Marcelle Foote, State Library; Arthur L. Harshman, Dunkirk, trustee; Philip Hamilton, Kokomo. This committee will work closely with the State Library in developing its program for demonstration projects, bookmobiles, field con-

AUTHORS HONORED

Indiana Author's Day citations were awarded seven writers at Indiana University on April 16. The seven books receiving the awards were selected as the most distinguished books of 1960 in their respective categories.

Eli Lilly, retired chairman of the board of Eli Lilly & Co., received a special award for dedicated scholarship over a quarter of a century in the preservation of the Hoosier heritage. Mr. Lilly's 1960 work was Early Wawasee Days.

Jeannette Covert Nolan, Indianapolis, became one of only three to win a citation for a second time. Her book, Spy for the Confederacy: Rose O'Neal Greenhow, won in the young adult category.

Other winners were as follows: world affairs—Jameson G. Campaigne, American Might and Soviet Myth; poetry—Margaret E. Bruner, The Road Lies Onward; young children—Miriam E. Mason, Becky and Her Brave Cat, Bluegrass; history—Bernard Knollenberg, Origin of the American Revolution, 1759-1766; general nonfiction—Edwin Way Teale, Journey Into Summer.

sultants, increasing materials available for loan, etc.

This is where Indiana's plan for public library development through use of LSA funds stands. For the first time there is money to do the job. It may be possible to do some of those things there has never been time nor money to do—but what are those things—how can this money be used most effectively to improve public library service in Indiana? This is what we need to find out, with the advice and cooperation of librarians and library trustees of Indiana.

STATE LIBRARY BUDGET 1961-63

Final appropriations by the legislature for the operation of the State Library for the next two years, beginning July 1, 1961, are given below. The figures can readily be compared with appropriations and actual expenditures of recent years as shown in the December, 1960, Library Occurrent, page 102, with explanatory information on the preceding and following pages there. The figures in italics below are 1960-61 appropriations, to compare with those for the next two years.

	Requested		Appropriated
	1961-62	1962-63	1961-62	1962-63
I. Personal Services	302,279	309,779	269,639	269,639
			260,779
II. Books, Periodicals and Binding	63,850	63,850	60,000	60,000
			35,500
III. Equipment, Non-Educa.	8,520	5,490	3,700	2,000
			none
IV. Other Operating	39,000	38,935	31,845	31,845
			36,970
TOTALS	413,649	418,054	365,184	363,484
			333,249

All appropriations for the new biennium reflect the intent of the legislature to "hold the line," avoiding increases for all agencies as far as possible. All library appropriations are less than the amounts requested, as usual, but the total for all purposes is greater than total appropriations for 1960-61.

This difference, approximately $30,000, falls chiefly in Book Funds, an important gain of $20,000 over estimated actual expenditures for 1960-61 ($39,200). There is also an increase in Personal Service funds of $9,000 more than the appropriation for 1960-61, or a total slightly less ($5,640) than estimated actual expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1961.

Present indications are that some arrangement will be made to permit adjustment of present salaries July 1, 1961. This may be based on a reduction in the number of existing positions. No new positions are to be allowed.

In general, the State Library can expect to maintain present services, with improvement in its book services, but its budget will continue austere in terms of staff and salary requirements.<sup>1</sup>

THREE SURVEY PROJECTS

I. A.L.A. Survey of State Libraries

This national study of all state libraries and related agencies of state government performing library functions was reported in some detail in the December 1960 Library Occurrent, page 126.

The start of this important project was delayed by the untimely death of its announced director, Dr. Robert D. Leigh, in January. The loss of Dr. Leigh is a loss to libraries and librarianship in general as well as to this survey project.

Dr. Phillip Monypenny, professor of political science, University of Illinois, has been named to direct the survey. Dr. Monypenny is a recognized authority in the field of state government. He will have the combined knowledge and experience of three staff members, all librarians of established reputations, to assure most valuable results for the future guidance of library services at the state level.

The Indiana State Library is participating actively in this survey.

II. ILA-ILTA Survey Proposal

This proposed study of library services of all kinds in Indiana has been prepared by the Joint Library Planning Committee, under authorization of the ILA-ILTA Joint Boards, and presented to the Lilly Endowment, Inc. with request for a grant of $50,000.

Mr. Charles R. Lay, trustee of the Marion Public Library, is chairman of the Planning Committee. Other members of the committee are listed in the March 1961 Library Occurrent, page 140.

The survey is designed to cover public libraries, school libraries, college and university libraries, special libraries and the Indiana State Library. A staff made up of a Director and specialists in each field of library service would be employed. An Advisory Committee would be made up of representatives of all types of libraries and a larger consultative committee would include representatives of civic, governmental, professional, educational and cultural organizations of the state.

The Boards of ILA, ILTA and of the State Library would be jointly responsible for the expenditure of funds in their capacity as sponsors of the survey.

The objects of the survey have been stated so—

- (1) To reveal the present status of library service in Indiana
- (2) To inform the public of the need for better library service
- (3) To form the basis for developing a plan for improving and extending service in all types of libraries.

If funds are made available this summer it would be expected to complete and publish the survey findings by the end of 1962.

III. Indiana Survey of Recreation

Public Library services are being included in a comprehensive survey of recreation facilities and leadership in Indiana's 92 counties under auspices of the Indiana Advisory Committee on Recreation, sponsor of the Governor's Annual Conference on Recreation.

The study is being financed by the Indiana Division of Mental Health and the State Board of Health. Its Director is Dr. Walter L. Stone, consulting sociologist and professor emeritus of Hanover College. Mr. James R. Champlin, secretary of the Advisory Committee on Recreation, is Co-Director.

The Survey prospectus contains the following statement of justification:

"—— The area of recreation, leisure

NEW V. U. LIBRARY

Vincennes University dedicated its new Curtis G. Shake Library on December 7 in ceremonies honoring the president of the board for whom the structure is named. The library is a gift to the University from hundreds of donors in the area—a tangible symbol of their faith in the cause of higher education.

The handsome brick structure with stone trim is the first building devoted exclusively to library facilities in the history of the pioneer institution whose roots date back to the frontier days of 1801. The library formerly was temporarily housed in the science building.

Colonial Style

The library carries out the basic architectural scheme of the new Vincennes University campus, a modern adaptation of Georgian Colonial. The building, with some 14,000 square feet of space, includes a large reading room with a mezzanine floor for book stacks, a reference room, periodical area, conference room, audio-visual room and cubicles for listening to recordings and tapes.

The funds for the structure were raised in a public campaign in 1956 covering Knox and Daviess counties in Indiana and Lawrence County in Illinois. The three-county drive brought in $200,000 from hundreds of donors. Gifts ranged all the way from pocket change to a $25,000 donation by the Lilly Foundation of Indianapolis.

In the meantime, the University's student body had been growing so rapidly that the library had growing pains before it even left the drawing board. By the time the building was actually started in 1959, the plans had been expanded to their present size of 14,000 square feet.

This boost in size, plus the inroads of inflation, meant that the University needed more money to complete the building. The original donors added $25,000 and last spring volunteer work carried out a one-day "crash" Dollar Day campaign.

In August the University's librarian, Sybil Modglin, supervised the moving of over 16,000 volumes and files of periodicals covering many years to the new structure.

Judge Shake was deeply moved by the many tributes to his leadership of the pioneer Indiana school during the dedication ceremonies. He has served on the Vincennes University board since 1923.

Mrs. Florence Watts, secretary of the Vincennes University board of trustees, unveiled a plaque which cited Judge Shake's "eminent leadership as a jurist and a citizen." Mrs. Watts particularly lauded Judge Shake's efforts in behalf of the school in its less prosperous days, calling him a man who would not give up the struggle to maintain Vincennes University. A portrait of the Judge was also unveiled.

BRAILLE ENCYCLOPEDIA

The Indiana State Library received the first volumes of the 145-volume Braille World Book on April 18. This set is the largest single undertaking in the history of Braille. It will encompass 38,000 pages and will require 43 feet of shelf space. Final shipment of the volumes will be received in the fall by the State Library.

This is the first time that blind students will have an authoritative source for independent study. The entire publishing venture was made possible by a joint contribution of Field Enterprises Educational Corp., the publisher of World Book, and the Field Foundation.

Other sets of the work are on their way to institutions for the blind in other U. S. cities, as well as in Canada, Latin America and Europe.

LAKE VILLAGE DEDICATION

The dedication of the Lake Village Memorial Township Library was held on May 7. The new library, a community dream since 1944 when it first was instituted as a living memorial to the soldiers of World War II, was built entirely with public subscription funds, donated labor and land, at a cost of approximately $10,000.

The structure, 30 x 50, is cement block, attractively fronted with limestone sheets and black granite. A flower box runs the width of the front along the plate glass windows.

Compact Structure

The interior was designed for cheerfulness and is well-lighted with fixtures that run the length of the building. The color scheme includes turquoise and white for the youth division and buff and brown for the adult section. Space that might have been unused has been utilized by magazine racks and book shelves being constructed around the supporting columns.

Memorial Gifts

Memorials include the birch furniture, books, pictures and relics which have been contributed by individuals, organizations and business firms. The popular "Memorial Shelf" holds many books that the library, with its limited budget, would have been unable to purchase otherwise.

Mrs. Dorothy Fry Arbuckle has been librarian since 1949, and she is assisted

LA PORTE EXPANSION

The La Porte Public Library held open house on April 16 to permit inspection of an extensive expansion and remodeling program nearing completion.

The library, under the combined direction of both city and county library boards, is in the final stage of a $150,000 improvement program which has doubled the floor space of the original 44 x 70 foot building.

Additional book shelves, new furnishings, modern lighting and restroom facilities have been a part of the project which included over-all decorating and renovation.

Guests toured the completed adult department and noted other staff and patron facilities. Also open for inspection was the newly created basement children's room which is partially completed.

Library board members, Librarian George A. Curtis and the library staff acted as hosts for the afternoon.

by Mrs. Rhoda Kuster, Book Club volunteers, and several apprentice librarians from the grade and high school.

At the dedication Miss Marcelle Foote, Extension Division, Indiana State Library, spoke on the functions of the State Library, explaining the many services that are available to both libraries and individuals.

At the conclusion of the dedication, refreshments were served by the mothers of the Girl Scouts and Brownies, and the two hundred and fifty-five guests toured the new building.

DICK D. HELLER, JR.

Governor Matthew E. Welsh has named Dick D. Heller, Jr., 32-year-old publisher of the Decatur Daily Democrat, a member of the Indiana Library and Historical Board for the 4-year term beginning in May. He succeeds Herbert H. Heimlich, Lafayette publisher.

Mr. Heller, son of the late Dick Heller who was executive secretary of Governor M. Clifford Townsend, brings a broad background of education and experience to the state position, and a deep personal interest in library and historical affairs.

Born in Decatur and a 1947 graduate of the Decatur High School, Mr. Heller spent his early years however in Indianapolis where he received his elementary schooling. He graduated from Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y. in 1956 where he majored in Russian Studies. He also attended Indiana University 1947-51 and the University of Maryland, specializing in government and journalism in the former and in German and American history in the latter. He is presently pursuing graduate studies at Ball State Teachers in his spare time.

Mr. Heller spent three years, 1951-54, in the U. S. Army, serving in Germany most of that time. He also spent two years as a Russian linguist with the U. S. Air Force Security Service in Tokyo in 1955-56. He rejoined the staff of the home newspaper in 1956, succeeding his father as publisher in 1958.

Library and historical affairs have been a natural interest of Mr. Heller, based in family tradition, like journalism and government. His great aunt is one of the state's better known and best liked librarians, Bertha C. Heller of the Decatur Public Library. His own mother is the children's librarian in "Aunt Bertha's" library. Mr. Heller attended the District Library Meeting in Columbia City on May 2 and his first meeting of the Library and Historical Board on May 19.

Mr. Heller's historical interests are equally impressive, recognizing that the Indiana Historical Bureau, as well as the State Library is the responsibility of the single board. He was a founder of the Adams County Historical Society and continues to be a moving spirit in that organization. He is an active member of the Allen County Historical Society, the Indiana Historical Society, the Society of Indiana Pioneers, and the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

It may be added that the new board member has been a frequent patron of the State Library in the pursuit of his historical, academic and many other interests. His appointment to its board is cordially welcomed.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

Mrs. Anna Cope is serving as temporary acting librarian at the FRENCH LICK Public Library during the illness of the librarian, Mrs. Minnie Bartl.

Retiring after 35 years with the HAMMOND Public Library, Florence Allman was honored with a dinner April 16 and is now touring Europe.

After serving as head of the Business Library, INDIANAPOLIS Public Library, for four years, Ronald L. Roberts has accepted the position of assistant director of the Four County Library System, a federated group of libraries based at Binghamton, New York.

Two trustees of the KENTLAND Public Library board, Mrs. Virginia McCray and Charles A. Rinard, who are retiring after more than 30 years of devoted service, have been appointed honorary trustees emeritus.

Mrs. Harry Floyd is acting librarian of the newly organized MATTHEWS Public Library.

Clifton T. Smith was appointed librarian of the MICHIGAN CITY Public Library January 1. He received his master's degree in library science at the University of Denver and comes to Indiana from Independence, Missouri, where he was librarian of the Jackson County Public Library.

Mrs. Barbara Clevenger was appointed acting librarian of the Joyce Public Library at ORLAND on January 1, following the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Jacob.

At WATERLOO Mrs. Raymond Dunn and Mrs. Clayton Pontius have been temporarily in charge of the library until a librarian is appointed.

NECROLOGY

Harry Van Duyn, member of the Clinton Public Library board since 1950, died February 22.

Mrs. Mary Jane Beiswanger, trustee of the Milford Public Library, died last December.

Rev. Ernest Roberts, president of the Winkpleck Memorial Library, Odon, board died suddenly on April 2 at the age of 74.

Clarence Brown, for many years president of the library board of the Morrison-Reeves Library, Richmond, died in April.

Mrs. Mildred Grogg, age 74, former librarian at the Waterloo Public Library for nine years and a board member for ten years, died on March 2.

Trustee Citation

The Trustee Citation Committee of the Indiana Library Association wishes to remind all Indiana librarians that it is their privilege to nominate trustees for this honor any time before September 1, 1961. According to the plan adopted by I. L. A., the committee must take into consideration library activities in the state, as well as service to the local libraries. Citations are limited to trustees who are members of the Indiana Library Trustees Association and who are in actual service on an Indiana Library Board during, at least, a part of the calendar year preceding the time the award is made.

Recommendations may be sent to any member of the committee on forms which may be procured from the chairman. If you have a trustee who can qualify, please send the name to the committee as soon as possible. Members of the committee are as follows: Marjorie Runyan, Aurora, Chairman; Edna Frazier, Nashville; Marian McFadden, Shelbyville.

CURRENT ADDITIONS FOR AN INDIANA COLLECTION

Some Books and Pamphlets about Indiana or by Hoosier Authors, Compiled by Hazel W. Hopper, Indiana Division, State Library

ADE, GEORGE. The America of George Ade. (1866-1944) Fables, Short Stories, Essays. Edited, with an introduction by Jean Shepherd. 1960. 284p. Putnam, $4.00.

George Ade was one of the greatest comic writers in America. Mr. Shepherd has collected in this book a number of Ade's fables, short stories and essays, along with a brief biographical sketch of Mr. Ade and a critical discussion of his work.

BELL, JOSEPH. Seven into Space. 1960. 192p. Popular Mechanics, $3.95.

Joe Bell gives the story of Project Mercury, America's man into space program. He discusses the selection and training of the astronauts. One of the astronauts, Virgil I. Grissom, was born in Mitchell, Indiana, and Joseph Bell, the author was born in Decatur.

BRUNER, MARGARET E. The Road Lies Onward. 1960. 85p. Christopher, $2.00.

Mrs. Bruner's talent is versatile, as shown in the wide range of subject matter expressed in her poetry and the varied poetry types she has used. Her word pictures are well written, simple and heart warming. Many of her poems have been included in anthologies. Mrs. Bruner lives in New Castle.

BUSBY, EDITH. Behind the Scenes at the Library. Illustrated with photographs. 1960. 64p. Dodd, $2.25.

Edith Busby was born in Terre Haute, but at an early age the family moved to the Rio Grande Valley and she has considered Texas her home. In this book she gives a graphic account of the varied activities necessary to keep our libraries open. She tells how books are selected, purchased, catalogued and made ready for the shelves. The author has had more than thirty years experience in public library work, mostly in the New York area. At present she is engaged in school library promotion for Dodd, Mead and Company.

Bulletin 104. 1960. The Association. P.O. Box 503. Chicago, 90.

This bulletin features the South Shore Line, the South Bend area, Northern Indiana Railway, Gary railways and the street railways of Lafayette, Hammond, Whiting and East Chicago, Marion, and the St. Joseph Valley and Angola-Lake James lines. Many fine illustrations of the early interurbans are included.

COFFIN, TRISTRAM. Not to the Swift. 1961. 379p. Norton, $4.50.

A President of the United States is the central figure in this novel. "His portrait is not flattering. His story is one of drama, humor and frailty, and of shattering events. It will not be received with approval in all political quarters. . . . This is a bitter, powerful and audacious novel." The author grew up in Indianapolis, attended DePauw University, and worked several years for the Indianapolis Times.

CONE, VIRGINIA. Africa—A World in Progress. 1960. 99p. Exposition, $3.00.

Mrs. Cone and her husband were the first Americans to teach in the Extra-Mural Studies program throughout Ghana. Mrs. Cone describes their year in Accra, telling something of the history, politics and sociology of the region. The author resides in Hammond and is assistant professor of history and government at Purdue University Calumet Center.

CORDELL, RICHARD A. Somerset Maugham. A Biographical and Critical Study. 1961. 274p. Indiana University, $5.95.

Richard Cordell has, for many years, been a friend and confidant of Maugham. He has drawn a striking portrait of the popular English author and has brought out many new and, hitherto, unpublished facts. Much of the information has been taken from Maugham's own confidential files on his life and work. Mr. Cordell is a native of Bloomington. He now holds the chair of George Ade Professor of English at Purdue.

DAILEY, VIRGINIA. Keys to Lawrence House. 1960. 181p. Duell, $2.95.

Letty Canfield was a daughter of the retired classics professor at Waverly College and was one of three newcomers to Lawrence House. Letty was a good student, but she had not been prepared to adjust quickly to the new mode of life. How Letty got herself straightened out during her freshman year at college is a lively story. Mrs. Dailey was born in Indianapolis and was graduated from Butler University.

ELMORE, NELLIE MAIE. When the Sun Sets. 1960. 218p. Comet, $3.50.

Millie Grady, the daughter of a tenant farmer, was born and reared in the upper Wabash Valley. Through strange circumstances Millie was forced by her father to marry Don Richards, a wealthy New Yorker. Millie was a social misfit in Don's wealthy and snobbish family, and her scheming mother-in-law sent her away from New York to a New England farm and requested that she divorce Don. She was able to make an interesting life for herself and her daughter. The author was born in Wabash County and now lives in Muncie.

FATOUT, PAUL. Mark Twain on the Lecture Circuit. 1960. 321p. Indiana University, $6.00.

The author has given us a detailed treatment of Mark Twain's career as a speaker, and, at the same time, he gives us a picture of that American cultural institution—the lyceum platform. Paul Fatout was born in Indianapolis and is now professor of English at Purdue University.

FRIERMOOD, ELISABETH HAMILTON. Promise in the Attic. 1960. 226p. Doubleday, $2.95.

This is the story of Dayton, Ohio, and the 1913 flood. Ginger O'Neal and her grandfather were marooned in the attic of their home and watched the city of Dayton being destroyed by the flood waters of the Miami River. Ginger had dreamed of becoming a famous author, but now other things seemed more important than writing best selling books. She worked untiringly to help rebuild Dayton and to make it safe from another devastating flood. Ages 12-16.

HARDING, BERTITA. Concerto. The Glowing Story of Clara Schumann. 1961. 288p. Bobbs, $5.00.

Bertita Harding gives us another of her masterful interpretations of the mind and character of great musicians. The story of Clara and Robert Schumann is one of the great love stories of all times, and Johannes Brahms became an intricate part of the couple's life. The book is a triple biography of these three inseparable geniuses.

HARDY, WILLIAM M. Wolfpack. 1960. 183p. Dodd, $3.50.

Wolfpack is a World War II story. It concerns three American submarines and the crews, on guard at the approach to Luzon Strait. On June 25, 1944, they met the Japanese merchant marine in combat. Here is the story of a group of men, American and Japanese, involved in a fight to the death telling how each reacted in the struggle. The author is assistant professor of drama at Purdue.

Year of the Rose.
1960. 243p. Dodd, $3.50.

David Shelby, a gifted English teacher, was in line to succeed the retiring chairman of the English department of a midwest university. The appointment was not to be announced for several months, so it was necessary that he not antagonize the wrong people. Sheby became involved in a love affair with one of his graduate students. The theme of the story is the influence of the secret romance on the lives of the several people who became involved.

HAY, WILMA PITCHFORD. Abe Lincoln's Birthday. Illustrated by Peter Burdard. 1961. 64p. Coward, $2.68.

This is the story of just one day in Abraham Lincoln's life—his twelfth birthday, and the incidents that happened on that day. The setting is Southern Indiana. Ages 8-12.

HEPBURN, ANDREW. Complete Guide to Mexico. (America Travel Series) 1960. 160p. Doubleday, $1.95.

Questions such as how to get there, what to see, what to buy, where to stay, and how much it costs are answered in this travel guide book. The author is a former Indianapolis resident.

HONOUR, ALAN. Secrets of Minos. Illustrated with photographs and line drawings. 1961. 187p. Whittlesey, $3.25.

Sir Arthur Evans conducted the archaeological excavations on the island of Crete and discovered there the ancient Minoan civilization long believed to be legendary. Mr. Honour has told the story of this expedition. The foreword of the book is by Dr. John H. Young, associate professor of archaeology, Johns Hopkins University. The author lives at Richmond. Ages 14-18.

Unlikely Hero. Illustrated by Grisha Dotzenko. 1960. 195p. Whittlesey, $3.00.

Here is an exciting biography of Heinrich Schliemann, whose faithful study of Homer's Iliad led him on a dedicated search for the ancient city of Troy. Ages 14-18.

LAIRD, DONALD A. and LAIRD, ELEANOR C. Tired Feelings and How to Master Them. 1960. 198p. McGraw, $4.50.

In this study of fatigue and tired feelings the authors offer specific case histories on the effect of fatigue, both physical and mental, and the steps with which to counteract the different types described. Among case histories discussed are those of Oliver Wendell Holmes, Charles Darwin and Abraham Lincoln who suffered from fatigue but were able to overcome its effects and lead full, constructive lives.

LAMBERT, JANET. Forever and Ever. 1961. 182p. Dutton, $2.95.

The globe-trotting Campbell family return to America to the college town of Wallacerville, where their father had been a professor at Waldham College. They find life in a small town fascinating and interesting. Ages 11-14.

McELFRESH, ADELINE. Summer Change. Illustrated by Charles Geer. 1960. 192p. Bobbs, $3.50.

The Earl family came from New York to spend the summer in a small Indiana town. Cathy was dismayed at the prospect of being buried for the summer in the midwest, but she knew that her father needed the quiet and rest to recuperate from a serious illness. She decided to pretend she was enjoying the summer and found, suddenly, that she was no longer acting. She entered into the activities of the community with real enjoyment. Teen age.

MOODY, RICHARD. Edwin Forrest. First Star of the American Stage. 1960. 416p. Knopf, $6.95.

Edwin Forrest was determined to break down British prejudice against American actors. He began his long career of acting in America and England at the Bowery Theatre in 1826 and performed on the stage until 1872, the last year of his life. The author is professor in the department of speech and theatre at Indiana University, and is director of the Indiana University Theatre.

MULLER, HERBERT J. Issues of Freedom. Paradoxes and Promises. (World Perspectives, volume 23) 1960. 170p. Harper, $3.50.

The author discusses in this volume the growth of liberty in Western Civilization, particularly in America. It is an argument for freedom and a discussion of the forces that threaten its growth. Mr. Muller is professor of English and government at Indiana University.

MYERS, HORTENSE and BURNETT, RUTH. Carl Ben Eielson. Young Alaska Pilot. (Childhood of Famous Americans Series) Illustrated by Gray Morrow. 1960. 192p. Bobbs, $1.95.

This story of the first "bush" pilot in Alaska was written by two Hoosiers. Hortense Myers is a reporter for United Press International at Indianapolis, and Mrs. Ruth Burnett, an elementary teacher, was formerly of Indianapolis and now lives at Lake Worth, Florida. Ages 7—up.

PEET, BILL. Huge Harold. Written and

Illustrated by Bill Peet. 1961. 46p.
Houghton, $3.75.

Poor Harold was no ordinary rabbit. He just couldn't stop growing—and, because he was so large, there just wasn't a place for him. After a number of escapades he found a home and became the idol of the countryside. This hilarious story, told in verse with its amusing illustrations, will be loved by children. The author was born in Grandview, Indiana, and attended John Herron Art Institute. He is an artist with the Walt Disney studios. Ages 4-8.

PIERSON, COEN G. Canada and the Privy Council. 1960. 119p. Stevens & Son, London.

By the British North American Act of 1867, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council was made the final court of appeal for Canada, as it was for the rest of the British Empire. There was opposition to this arrangement from the start which grew until the appeals from Canada to the Privy Council were abolished in 1949. This study discusses the controversial issues of the question. Dr. Pierson is professor of history at DePauw.

RILEY, JAMES WHITCOMB. Joyful Poems for Children. Illustrated by Charles Geer and Sally Tate. 1960. 157p. Bobbs, $3.50.

Here is a new edition of Riley's familiar and beloved children's classic with attractive new illustrations. All ages.

RUSSELL, DON. Lives and Legends of Buffalo Bill. 1960. 514p. University of Oklahoma, $5.95.

This is a scholarly study of the life of William F. Cody, relating the truths behind the many legends about him that were exploited in contemporary dime novels and the wild west shows. Don Russell is a native of Huntington.

SPEICHER, HELEN R. and BORLAND, KATHRYN K. Southern Yankees. Illustrated by Ingrid Fetz. 1960. 192p. Bobbs, $2.95.

The Cartwright twins, John and Ann, go to sleep on the train returning from a visit with their Aunt Lou in Washington. They awake and find they have been displaced in time and are living with an aunt and uncle in Virginia. The War Between the States is about to begin and the children, with their sympathies for the North, have a rugged time. The unfamiliarity with the dress and customs of the period causes some very amusing incidents. Both of the authors are residents of Indianapolis and are life-long friends. Ages 8-12.

SWIGGETT, GLEN LEVIN. Famous Books: a Living Heritage. 2 volumes. 1960. 321p. University Press of Sewanee, Tennessee, $8.00.

These two volumes of sonnets were written about the world's famous books throughout the ages. The author was born in Cambridge City.

TEALE, EDWIN WAY. Journey into Summer . . . With photographs by the author. 1960. 366p. Dodd, $5.95.

This is the third of Mr. Teale's surveys of natural history of the four American seasons. Many readers have traveled with him in North with Spring and Autumn Across America. This volume takes the reader from northern New England, along the shores of the Great Lakes, south through the corn country and into the Rockies for an extensive exploration of nature in America. Teale lived in Chicago but spent his summers as a boy in the dune country of Indiana. It was here he developed the love for nature that has made him one of America's foremost naturalists.

WITHERSPOON, JAMES D. and WITHERSPOON, REBECCA H. The Living Laboratory. Illustrated by the Author. 1960. 256p. Doubleday, $3.95.

This fully-illustrated book includes 200 safe projects, experiments and Science Fair activities for students and amateur scientists of any age. Mr. Witherspoon is director of a graduate school laboratory at Purdue, and

MR. GOODWIN REAPPOINTED

Mr. John P. Goodwin of Brookville was reappointed to the Library and Historical Board for the four year term beginning in May 1961, on recommendation of the Indiana Historical Society.

Mr. Goodwin was first appointed to the board in 1945. He became president in 1957 and continues to serve in this capacity.

THREE SURVEY PROJECTS

and off-the-job or retirement living is of particular significance. We are swiftly moving toward a shorter work week and less opportunities in work for creative expression. Our citizens are living longer and retiring younger. The availability of recreation facilities and qualified leadership is one important way to negate the possible ill effects of sociological and medical changes. Positive mental health and utilization of leisure in a healthful manner is undoubtedly closely related. Identification of presently available community recreation resources and its leadership, is of paramount importance in the development of a program which will provide adequate recreation opportunities for all people in the State and hopefully contribute toward their better mental health."

Dr. Stone has secured from the State Library information concerning library services in Indiana. He is visiting and interviewing many local librarians among the local community leaders consulted and invites librarians to share their knowledge not only of local library services and needs but of other community services and needs relating to recreation in its broad concept.

TWO HOOSIERS SEEK NATIONAL OFFICE

This year Indiana is proud to have two Hoosiers who are prominent on the Indiana library scene running for national office in their respective organizations.

Mrs. Ida Kay Saks of the Gary Public Library Board is seeking the office of vice-president and president-elect of the American Library Trustees Association. As a member of the Gary Board since 1953 and its president in 1956-58, she was influential in securing a recent ruling from the Indiana Supreme Court assuring the bonding power of library boards in Indiana.

Mrs. Saks' talents have been recognized in her community by the presentation of the Page One Award in 1959 as Gary's outstanding citizen by the newspaper reporters' guild.

She is currently serving her second term as president of the Indiana Library Trustees Association. On the national library scene, Mrs. Saks has been a member of the A.L.T.A. since 1954 and has actively participated in its program. Since 1959 she has been the trustee member of the A.L.A. Council and is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Public Library Association of A.L.A.

Mrs. Saks has a broad understanding of the library objectives and standards and has always been alert to introduce or relate the work of libraries to the community as well as to promote library participation in community affairs.

Mrs. Georgia Cole, director of School Libraries and Teaching Materials, Indiana State Department of Public Instruction, is a candidate for the office of secretary of the American Association of School Librarians.

Mrs. Cole has given outstanding leadership to the State through her many worthwhile accomplishments in regard to school libraries. She has not only worked effectively with the library organizations in the State, but she has also gained recognition nationally through her work as chairman of the Exhibits Committee and, subsequently, as chairman of the Professional Relations Committee of the A.A.S.L., a division of A.L.A. In this capacity she has coordinated the activities of A.A.S.L. with some twenty national education organizations.

Mrs. Cole has also participated at state and national levels in various conferences and workshops of library and education groups as a consultant, speaker, panelist, and coordinator. Her numerous contributions to professional periodicals are worthy of note. She was one of three state school library supervisors who were selected to serve on the committee of the Study Commission of the Council of Chief State School Officers which prepared the forthcoming statement on the responsibilities of State Departments of Education for developing school libraries.

Mrs. Saks and Mrs. Cole have the best wishes of Indiana librarians and trustees for a successful election to these high offices.

LEGISLATIVE ROUNDUP

Three acts passed by the 1961 Indiana Legislature have significance for Indiana libraries. Any library, art gallery, museum, collection or exhibition might be affected by the provisions of the Public Property Protection Act (Chapter 168) which will be in force after September 1. Two copies of this act have been mailed by the State Library's Extension Division to all public, college and university libraries in the State. Extra copies of this act may be obtained from the Extension Division. The Extension Division would appreciate hearing from anyone contemplating action under this law. (See next page)

Cars and Drivers. Illustrated with official Speedway photographs.

1960. 219p. Harper, $3.25.

The author of the book Indianapolis 500, the Story of the Motor Speedway, Harper, 1956, now tells the stories of some of the great and near great car-driver combinations that have driven in the Memorial Day classic. Some of the drivers included are Ray Harroun, Ralph DePalma, Billy Arnold, Floyd Roberts, Wilbur Shaw, Mauri Rose and Bill Holland, Fred Agabashian, Bill Vukovich, Sam Hanks and Jimmy Bryan. The story is also about the sleek machines which these famous racing men drove in the Speedway race. The final chapter of the book treats the 1959 and 1960 races.

YELLEN, SAMUEL. Wedding Band. 1961.

170p. Atheneum, $3.75.

The wedding band joined together two persons of very different backgrounds, tastes and interests. Love united them but could not dissolve their differences. Meyer Davidov was an immigrant Jew who married Eleanor Harper, an American gentile. Three children, two girls and a boy, were born to them, and not one of the three had the pronounced characteristics of either parent. When the children reached adulthood each went his separate way. The author is a professor of English at Indiana University.

An amendment to the Public Works Law (Chapter 121) raises from $500 to $2000 the amount for which public works or improvement may be done without adopting plans and specifications and awarding a contract for such public works or improvement to the lowest and best bidder. This law becomes effective upon promulgation.

A new law (Chapter 173) which could have future meaning for libraries authorizes departments, agencies and units of municipal government to contract for specific services with other departments, agencies, and units of municipal or state government. This act becomes effective upon promulgation.

REMINGTON FIRE

On Monday morning, April 24, the Remington Public Library was completely destroyed by fire. Nothing was saved except a few metal chairs and, most fortunately, the Centennial Book which had been compiled during the town's centennial in 1960. Faulty wiring is presumed to have been the cause.

Mrs. Janet Daily, librarian, and the library trustees, Mrs. Florence Bowman, president, Mrs. Fern Tobias, Mrs. Anne Schantz, Lowell Jones and Merrill Rowland, have lost no time in starting to restore library service to the citizens of Remington and Carpenter Township.

A large store room formerly used by the postoffice has been rented, decorated, and equipped with temporary shelves. The State Library has sent a long-term loan of five thousand books to be used until the library is able to replace its book stock. A number of these books are new reference titles purchased with funds available to Indiana under the Library Services Act. The Indiana Historical Bureau has also sent Indiana material which is always hard to find and other libraries are offering books in good condition which they can spare, so it is hoped the collection will soon approach adequacy.

Plans are being made to rebuild the library just as quickly as possible, probably with a modern, ground-level building.
